

Periodicals

How to Cite

What is a periodical?

What is a periodical?

What is a periodical?

What is a periodical?

What is a periodical?

If you use a periodical in your report, your citation should include:

-The author's last name and then first name.

If you use a periodical in your report, your citation should include:

-The author's last name and then first name.

-The title of the article "in quotes."

If you use a periodical in your report, your citation should include:

-The author's last name and then first name.

-The title of the article "in quotes."

-The name of the periodical in italics.

-The date of the issue.

If you use a periodical in your report, your citation should include:

- The author's last name and then first name.
- The title of the article "in quotes."
- The name of the periodical in italics.
- The date of the issue.
- The page the article is on.

If you use a periodical in your report, your citation should include:

- The author's last name and then first name.
- The title of the article "in quotes."
- The name of the periodical in italics.
- The date of the issue.
- The page the article is on.
- The medium

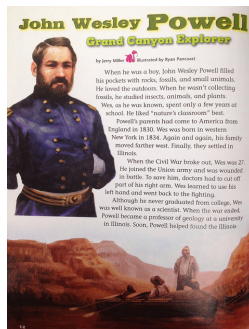

Here is how this looks:

Here is our periodical.

Here is how this looks:

Here is our article.

Here is how this looks:

-The author's last name and then first name.

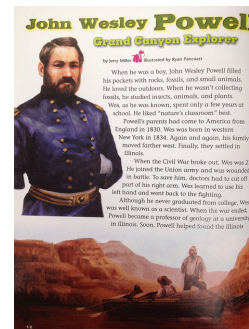

-The title of the article "in quotes."

-The name of the periodical in italics.

-The date of the issue.

-The pages the article is on.

-The medium.

Here is how this looks:

Miller, Jerry. "John Wesley Powell: Grand Canyon Explorer." Appleseeds. May, 2008: 12-14. Print.

Miller, Jerry. "John Wesley Powell: Grand Canyon Explorer." Appleseeds. May, 2008: 12-14. Print.

And we're done!